THE SYMBOL OF EXCELLENCE FOR HOME PERFORMANCE CONTRACTORS

LARRY'S TIME AT BPI

Larry Zarker came on board as BPI's CEO in 2006 and brought decades of experience in the residential buildings sector with him. In his role as CEO, he oversaw BPI as its standards and credentials went through national expansion, in addition to the creation and update of several certifications and certificate programs.

Larry is passionate about healthy housing issues and ensuring that contractors, health care workers, social workers and more, are familiar with home health hazards, their impacts, and how to address them. He contributed to the creation of BPI's Healthy Home Evaluator (HHE) certification, Healthy Housing Principles (HHP) certificate program, and has given many presentations on healthy housing at industry conferences. He plans to continue to be involved in consultation and credentialing processes for healthy housing during his retirement, which began in 2024.

PURPOSE OF THE SCHOLARSHIP

The Larry Zarker Healthy Homes Scholarship is intended to help individuals who want to make a difference in the comfort, health, and safety of our homes.

This scholarship program can help those who are passionate about healthy homes and can spread awareness to those who are new to healthy housing and the eight "Keep It" principles.
