

New Construction Hers Rater/labor

Will train the right person.

We test and inspect for energy efficiency in new construction and existing homes. We will provide all training and certification to the successful candidate. Must be very fast and professional. The candidate will eventually need to be certified in all aspects of Title-24 and ICC code compliance. Current energy testing certification a BIG plus. Must have clean driving record. All training paid by CLE.

California Living & Energy (CLE) is a 30 + year old business started with energy calculations and has become one of the top energy testing companies in California. If you want to grow and help the environment, join us.

JOB KNOWLEDGE AND EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS:

- High School Diploma or equivalent required
- Construction Management training.
- Strong ability to work independently.
- Strong decision-making ability.
- Strong interpersonal skills and ability to work with general contractors.
- Experienced documenting results in informal reports and presenting the results.

WORK ENVIRONMENT:

Work performed by our rater at various existing homes and new construction sites; must be comfortable with inspecting occupied homes and working with the public. Some travel time required. New Construction is the focal point of our work. Some travel to Social required

Desired Qualities:

- High Energy
- Detail-oriented
- Technical Aptitude
- Organized even with changing and/or competing priorities
- Good judgment in ambiguous situations
- Knows how to achieve results while maintaining high quality
- Excellent communicator ability to connect with a wide variety of people.
- Honesty and integrity are required.

Compensation:

- Excellent wages with bonus
- Earn extra days off each month
- 85% of your medical.
- Vision and dental
- Company vehicle
- Company credit card
- Paid vacations
- 401k

Job Type: Full-time