

Weatherization Energy Auditor (BPI Certification Required)

We are looking to immediately hire an Energy Auditor (BPI Certification Required) for a growing Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP). Experience with home construction and rehabilitation is strongly preferred as knowledge of these elements are critical to successfully performing home energy audits. Experience in Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP) is a plus.

Primary responsibilities are as follows:

- Performing home energy audits in compliance with program guidelines
- Performing home energy assessment, air sealing, duct sealing, blower door testing and other weatherization measures and performing client intake duties
- Entering data into the Hancock database and uses program for the modeling of homes to be weatherized
- Identifies best funding sources for each weatherization job and manages multiple funding sources for each job
- Maintaining complete and accurate paper and electronic records as needed; performs data entry tasks related to energy audits as required

Background Requirements:

- Applicants must be BPI-Certified Home Energy Professional
- BPI Building Analyst / Envelope Professional
- Knowledge of construction, specifically HVAC (does not need to be licensed)
- This position requires organization, attention to detail, and excellent communication skills
- All candidates are required to pass background check and have a valid driver's license

The Company

Vigil is a regional leading contractor that is experiencing rapid growth and plenty of room for professional development and upward mobility. We have substantial backlog that will result in work for several years, removing the worry of potential layoffs that the construction industry is accustomed to experiencing. The Company self-performs almost all vertical construction work and has master licensed individuals in HVACR, plumbing, and pipe fitting.
