

Weatherization Energy Auditor (BIG Buildings)

HIRING NOW! BE Retrofit (a division of Envocore, LLC) is searching for Weatherization Energy Auditors that are eager to grow their careers in the commercial sector. At BE Retrofit you will:

- Translate your experience into large buildings and multi-million-dollar projects
- Work with experts from Fortune 500 companies like Honeywell and Johnson Controls
- Increase your positive impact on the world - we are currently working on a project with a $10,000,000 pre-retrofit energy budget!
- Travel the country - 75% of the year is out of town sleeping in hotels

The perspective from a future colleague:

'It is awesome to be a part of a team that continuously strives to be the best in the business. Performing audits for entire school districts, many spanning over 1,000,000 square feet in total building size is something I never knew was in the cards for my career.'

'The travel is also really a plus; there is no shortage of great food, breweries, and experiences as a successful traveler. Every city from Maine to Missouri has something new to offer that you simply can't get staying local. The whole team at BE Retrofit is a close group of people that truly work together to be the best; every voice is heard, every person has a huge impact on the success of every project, and hard work never goes unnoticed.' - Brian Scholl

Prior work experience that translates well for this job include:
